

SMITH COLLEGE.

Family Weekend

SCHEDULE

2024

Friday, October 25

8 a.m.—5:30 p.m.

Classes Open to Visitors

Various Locations—List available at the Campus Center, Room 103/104

Attend one of your student's favorite classes or any other open class. A complete listing of open classes will be available in the hospitality suite. Note that any classes not on the list are not open due to issues such as limited seating, a guest speaker, students taking a quiz, etc.

9 a.m.—5 p.m.

Family Weekend Hospitality Suite Campus Center, Room 103/104

Join us for morning refreshments and receive information about the weekend, a list of open classes, and learn more about Smith and the local area.

11 a.m.—5 p.m.

Official Smith Ring Sales

Campus Center, Main Level, Table 1

The Smith ring, designed by students, is a symbol of the continuous link with classmates, friends, and the college. The ring also evokes special and shared memories of Smith days. Sponsored by Smith's Alumnae Association, the ring is reserved exclusively for sophomores, juniors, seniors, and Ada Comstock Scholars in good standing. The design remains unchanged—a tangible connection to the past and the future.

noon—4 p.m.

OSE Popcorn Fridays

Campus Center, Room 106

Join the Office of Student Engagement for this weekly tradition in the Campus Center, where you can meet staff and pick up popcorn.

12:15—1:15 p.m.

Demystifying Money: Foundations

Conway Center, Neilson Library, Room 103

This final installation in the Conway Center's personal finance workshop series will focus on ways to keep your money (and financial identity) safe. From learning about insurance to spotting a scam, a little awareness can go a long way toward keeping your financial future on track. Lunch is provided; participants must RSVP on the Smith Social Network.

12:15—1:10 p.m.

Soup, Salad, and Soul

Helen Hills Hills Chapel, Bodman Lounge

Come get cozy and enjoy a hot, delicious vegetarian soup made by awesome student cooks while taking part in reflective, student-led discussions on spirituality and life! Students (and their parents) of all religious, spiritual, and nonreligious/nonspiritual backgrounds are welcome. Bodman Lounge is in the basement of the Helen Hills Hills Chapel and is accessible via elevator from the rear of the building. For details about food and for answers to other general accessibility questions, email Anna Ostow at aostow@smith.edu.

12:30—2:30 p.m.

Jummah

Hampshire Mosque, Hadley

The Center for Religious and Spiritual Life invites students to join us for Jummah at the Hampshire Mosque in Hadley. The group will meet in front of the Helen Hills Hills Chapel at 12:25 p.m. The van will leave campus by 12:30 p.m. and return to campus no later than 2:30 p.m. Remember to bring a prayer rug and complete your ablution beforehand. There are extra prayer rugs in the Blue Room at the chapel if you need one! To RSVP, email crsl@smith.edu. All are welcome!

1–2 p.m.

Building Futures: A Discussion With the Wurtele Center for Leadership and the Lazarus Center for Career Development Campus Center, Carroll Room

Join Wurtele Center director Erin Cohn '00 and Lazarus Center dean of career development Faith McClellan for a conversation about how we work with Smith students to explore their leadership and craft a sense of purpose for their work and future endeavors. As the Wurtele and Lazarus centers will collocate in a new building starting in 2025, this is an opportune moment for us to engage in broad community dialogue about what it means to live and lead well, and what capacities students need to build for the rapidly changing future of work.

1–4:30 p.m.

Button Making With Smith Special Collections Neilson Library, Third Floor, Special Collections Welcome Center

Join Smith College Special Collections staff on the third floor of Neilson Library to make buttons with images from the collections. After you make a button, explore our student-curated exhibits to discover unique and rare materials at Smith. Special Collections curates materials relating to women's history, rare books, and the institutional memory of the college. Using these materials, Special Collections offers class instruction, reference support and consultation, and project planning for Smith students.

1:30—2:30 p.m.

Supporting and Advocating for Your Student Campus Center, Room 205

Director of Residence Life Hannah Durrant will lead a discussion on how to support your student when they are having a difficult time. It might be a roommate issue, not feeling connected on campus, or feeling overwhelmed by deadlines. Hannah will share strategies for how best to support your student and will answer questions from families.

2–3 p.m.

A Tour of Smith's Notable Trees Meet at Lanning Fountain, south of Lyman Plant House

Smith's diverse arboretum collections include a number of heritage trees that have been cherished by generations of Smith students. Take a tour with the botanic garden's director to explore some of these highlights and discuss the inherent value of trees and the critical questions we face as we aim to build high-impact conservation collections for the 21st century. Note: Limited to the first 80 attendees.

2–3 p.m.

Family Weekend “Tea”–Brief
Campus Center, Room 103/104

Come by the hospitality suite to chat with current students about their experience at Smith and create your own fall-themed tea bags to use during Friday afternoon tea.

3–4 p.m.

Campus Life Meet & Greet
Campus Center, Carroll Room

Meet Smith staff members who support students’ campus life experience, including the dean of the college, the dean of students, and representatives from the Office of Student Affairs. Have some light refreshments and ask any questions you might have about life on campus.

3–5 p.m.

Bookmark-Making Workshop With
Smith College Libraries
Neilson Library, Klingenstein Browsing
Room (102)

The Smith College Libraries advance teaching, learning, research, and discovery for the Smith community by providing state-of-the-art resources and services. Join the libraries’ staff to make bookmarks together and learn more about what the libraries do to support students’ education.

3–5 p.m.

STEAM Art Pop-Up
Wright Hall, Room 013

Join the STEAM Outreach Team—a group of Smith undergraduates interested in increasing access to science, technology, engineering, art, and math at Smith and nearby communities—and the Jandon Center for Community Engagement for snacks, crafting, and a chance to see some friendly faces from the center. Learn about STEM-and-art opportunities, both at Smith and in the local community, and make a fun art piece to take home with you.

4–5 p.m.

Afternoon Tea in Houses
Various Locations

Families are welcome to join afternoon tea gatherings in their student’s house. Note: Families must be accompanied by their student whenever they are in a student residence.

6:30–8 p.m.

Comfort Food Dinner Hosted by CSA
Neilson Library, Klingenstein Browsing
Room (102)

Whether you’re reconnecting with family or finding comfort in community, this dinner with the Smith College Chinese Students Association (CSA) is one way to celebrate togetherness and culture during Family Weekend. Everyone is welcome!

7–9 p.m.

Mehndi Night With EKTA
Davis Ballroom

Come join us for a delightful evening filled with music, delicious food, beautiful mehndi (henna), and joyous festivities hosted by the South Asian Organization of Smith College (EKTA). Your entrance fee includes the opportunity to have mehndi applied to one hand at the event. We can’t wait to have you with us! See EKTA’s instagram @smith_ekta or visit the hospitality suite for information on purchasing tickets.

7:30–9:30 p.m.

Smith Theatre Fall Production:
Marie Antoinette by David Adjmi
Mendenhall Center,
Hallie Flanagan Studio Theatre

Directed by Monica Lopez Orozco, codirected by Max Lerin '25

In this contemporary take on the young queen of France, Marie is a confection created by a society that values extravagance and artifice. But France’s love affair with the royals sours as revolution brews, and for Marie, the political suddenly becomes very personal. From the light and breezy banter at the palace to the surging chants of “Liberté, Egalité, Fraternité!” in the streets, Marie Antoinette holds a mirror up to our contemporary society that might just be entertaining itself to death. Reserve tickets at smitharts.ludus.com. Free for Smith students.

8–10 p.m.

Karaoke Night
Campus Center, Carroll Room

Stop by to unwind, sing your favorite tunes, and enjoy time with friends and family!

8:30–9:30 p.m.

Stargazing
McConnell Hall Roof

The astronomy department will hold a stargazing open house on the McConnell roof. Come see Saturn, Jupiter, galaxies, nebulae, stars, and star clusters. All are welcome! Please dress warmly. Event will be canceled in the event of heavy cloud cover. For further information or to check on weather conditions, contact Meg Thacher (mthacher@smith.edu).
